NEW OFFICERS FOR LODGE OF MASONS ARE INSTALLED

Dwight W. Stephenson Made Worshipful Master; Gift for Henry P. Goodwin

Installation of officers of Unity lodge, No. 368, F. & A. M., took place last night at Masonic temple, the following officers being installed:

Dwight W. Stephenson, worshipful master; Harmon A. Strong, senior warden; Newton Van Why, junior warden; Daniel Campbell, treasurer; Alphonso W. Tower, secretary; Alphonso L. Chandler, chaplain; Arthur H. Dibbern, senior deacon; William E. Moody, junior deacon; Herbert M. Morton, marshal; John S. Cleeland, senior steward; George S. Blyth, junior steward; Charles H. Ravenscroft, tyler; Donald C. Lindley, organist.

John Hobbs of Glendale, inspector for Masonic district No. 59-A, was installing officer, and Henry Goodwin, retiring worshipful master, acted as master of ceremonies, in the absence of E. B. Spencer.

For several years past Mr. Spencer was the inspector for this district and as such installed the officers of Unity lodge with Mr. Hobbs invariably acting as his master of ceremonies. This year the order was just reversed.

Address by Mr. Stephenson

After the installation ceremonies the following speech was made by Worshipful Master Stephenson:

"Brethren! I sincerely thank you from the bottom of my heart for the honor which has been conferred on me this evening. Like all honors worth having, there are grave responsibilities accompanying it. If the ensuing Masonic year is to be a success I will need the hearty co-operation of every member of this lodge, and knowing the kind of stuff the boys of Unity are made of, I am sure that I will have their support and co-operation in all things for the good of Masonry in general and this lodge in particular.

"The road that leads to the station that I occupy this evening for the first time is a long one, and yet, as I

The bride wore an imported frock of dark blue with embroidery trimming, and carried a bouquet of violets. Mr. and Mrs. Danielsen will be at home after Christmas at 442 West Maple avenue.

Mrs. Danielsen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Mischke who are now in Europe, and has lived in Glendale for three years. Mr. Danielsen is a native of Denmark, and came to Glendale from Spokane, Washington. He is now connected with the Fordson Tractor company of Glendale. Mr. and Mrs. Danielsen are planning to go on a honeymoon trip to Europe some time next year.

Today's World News In Brief

(By International News Service to Glendale Evening News)

MAN COMMITTS SUICIDE BY CHEWING DYNAMITE CAP

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—Grieving over an illness, August Snell, 70, a patient of the county hospital, ended his life today by chewing a dynamite cap which virtually blew off his head when it exploded, according to the police.

CONFERENCE OF ALL NATIONS MAY BE CALLED SOON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—A conference of all the nations in the world will probably have to be called by the United States for the purpose of securing an agreement on the question of limiting the construction of naval armament, a spokesman of the British delegation stated today.

L. GEORGE AND BRIAND MAY NOT AGREE ON GERMANY

LONDON, Dec. 21.—A strong possibility developed today that Premier Lloyd George and Premier Briand would not reach any definite decision on the German indemnity situation. It was admitted that only slight progress has been made to date because of the divergent views among the experts on vital matters concerned with German indemnity.

HUNDREDS OF ARRESTS BEING MADE IN PORTUGAL

VIGO, Spain, Dec. 21.—Hundreds of arrests have been made throughout the whole of Portugal as the result of a fresh outbreak of revolutionary disorders, according to refugees crossing the frontier today. They said that the revolutionary group responsible for the overthrow of the government at Lisbon in October continues most active in all parts of the country.

FIND NO TRACE OF BANDIT WHO ROBBED B. & O. TRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—No trace had been found today of the suave bandit who boarded the observation car of a fast Baltimore & Ohio passenger train within the city limits and almost under the guns of armed guards, robbed passengers of approximately $1000. After robbing the passengers the bandit pulled the signal cord for the train to stop and as it slowed up leaped off and escaped in a waiting automobile.

DEFENSE EXPECTED TO TRY TO PROVE BURCH IS INSANE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—After firing its last round of impeachment shots aimed to riddle the testimony of important prosecution witnesses, the defense in the trial of Arthur C. Burch, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, was today expected to begin its fight to prove that Burch is insane, a victim of paranoid dementia praecox. Three women were called to the courtroom by Defense Attorney Schenck to provide the biggest surprise of the defense case. They were Mrs. Tessie Sapir, Mrs. Sophie Root and her daughter, Miss Alice Root, who were passengers with Burch on the pullman car that brought him to Los Angeles. The three women were called to impeach the testimony of Richard Sanderson, pullman porter, who testified for the prosecution that Burch brought a shotgun case that had "something in it" when he came here from Evanston, Ill. The prosecution contends the case contained the shotgun Burch used to kill Kennedy. Ralph R. Obenchain, divorced husband of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, co-defendant in the case, and the Rev. W. A. Burch, father of the accused man, who were unable to testify yesterday, were scheduled to take the stand during the day.

SOUTHLAND TRAFFIC BADLY CRIPPLED BY HEAVY RAIN

Railroad and Interurban Lines Are Halted; Send Aid to Marooned Families

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21. — With rain still falling in this city and southern California, railroad and interurban lines traffic was badly crippled today and relief work was organized to aid many families driven from their homes in low-lying sections by flood waters.

Railroad trains to and from Los Angeles operated only with the utmost difficulty and in some places were halted by washouts of bridges and tracks. The Pacific Electric management reported trouble on a number of lines.

While the property loss from the storm which began Saturday night will be heavy, it was said the beneficial results from the much-needed rain are incalculable. Both citrus and vegetable ranchers were rejoicing over the drenching their lands received. So far as is known there has been no loss of life.

The rain was not so heavy during the night as it was yesterday and, for this reason, some southern California streams were reported to be several feet lower than they were at the peak of the storm twenty-four hours earlier.

However, as a precautionary measure Sheriff Traeger kept large squads of deputy sheriffs on duty at the Hall of Justice prepared to hurry to any part of the county to aid persons marooned by storm waters.

Keeping Tracks Clear

Throughout the night 350 men remained at work in Cajon pass fighting flood waters and landslides that threatened to completely block the tracks of the Santa Fe and Union Pacific railroads.

Early today, it was reported, flood waters from the San Antonio wash broke from the channel and swept across orange groves, inundating the suburbs of Pomona. Squads of men were sent to the wash to build up levees and fight back the water.

The storm in the San Bernardino mountain section was declared to be the worst in thirty years, with fifteen inches of rain reported.

During the night volunteers summoned by J. W. Reagan, County Flood Control Engineer, worked to strengthen the flood control channel levees near Long Beach. Tractors were used to haul sand and gravel to straighten the banks.

Deputy sheriffs rescued more than thirty Mexicans marooned in a wash

Women's Day Given By Presbyterians; Program Is Ejoyed

Women's Day at the Presbyterian church, yesterday, was a success in spite of the rain. After the work of the forenoon and a fine Christmas luncheon generaled by Mrs. George McDill, to which the pastors and elders were invited, the afternoon's program was developed by Mrs. Dan Campbell, who had made excellent preparations. The subject for the day was handled by Dr. Laura Brown and Miss Ruth Byram.

For good measure there was an unexpected treat in music. Mrs. Farish, recently from Denver, with Mrs. Spencer Robinson sang two duets, which were charming both in composition and in rendition and Mrs. Farish added a delightful solo. Mr. Marquardt, an artist of the violin, gave a beautiful solo and responded to an encore. Mrs. Spencer Robinson, at the piano, accompanied with her characteristic fine effect.

Float for Glendale In Pasadena Tourney Is Almost Financed

Another addition to the Glendale float fund is reported today as coming from Ramona Institute No. 87, Y. L. I., in the sum of $5. This brings the total to approximately what L. W. Chobe estimates the Tournament of Roses' entry will cost. The matter of a benefit matinee at the Glendale Theatre is left to the discretion of the committee. Dr. Jessie A. Russell is making arrangements for the event.

Christian Circle Club Has Dinner and Tree

Sure it rained, but not too heavily for the members of the Christian Circle club to meet in the Baptist church last night. The splendid dinner was served by the Presbyterian women and three dozen girls were present. A beautifully decorated Christmas tree graced the corner of the room and a brief program was enjoyed. Miss Grace Yarbrough and Mrs. Morestatter gave readings and Bible study was led by Miss Maud Soper.

MEETINGS DISCONTINUED

The meetings of Chapter AH. P. E. O., of which Mrs. A. T. Van Etten is president, have been discontinued until after the Christmas holidays.

BRIDGES IN DANGER AND COMMUTERS FORCED TO WALK

Sunshine and shadows after the storm.

More rain predicted, but clouds clearing away.

Two bridges on roads leading to Los Angeles out of commission, but no accidents or loss of life.

Highways in places resemble seas of mud, but all are passable except Los Feliz Road between here and Hollywood.

More than forty-five feet of the span across the Los Angeles river this side of Griffith park was swept away last evening and a crew of fifty men are fighting today to clear the jam which threatens more of the structure.

It is not expected that the flood waters will recede materially for several hours and in the meantime the current acts like a monster battering ram against the spindly supports.

Passengers Must Walk

A similar fight is being made to save the Glendale (Brand) boulevard bridge which is still open to traffic. The Pacific Electric trestle paralleling this artery of auto travel has sunk one and one-half feet for a considerable distance and shuttle car service is being maintained. Passengers on the Glendale line are walking from Ivanhoe to the Atwater track, a distance of a mile. Railroad bridge builders hope to have the east tracks in shape for traffic by tonight.

Probably Prevented Wreck

W. P. Helms, a Pacific Electric conductor who lives in company property at Ivanhoe, noticed from his bedroom window about 7:00 o'clock this morning that a Glendale bound car bounced about on the bridge like a rubber ball. He took it to mean that the trestle was undermined and sure enough it was! He stopped an inbound Burbank flyer by running across the bridge and stationed guards at side of the structure.

Had cars continued to cross unaware of the danger that lurked beneath, there is a great possibility that one or more would have gone off the bridge with the resultant drowning of many commuters. Conductor Helms had not slept during the night for fear of just such a catastrophe and as each car would cross the bridge he got up and watched the wobbling lights to satisfy himself as to the safety of the structure.

Some Realty Changes

Along San Fernando road there are great washes, but the highway remains open. At Grand View there is mud knee deep washed down from some of the high priced residential sections in the foothills and the owner of the gasoline station at that intersection declares he is a "millionaire" in terms of mud.

Dr. S. S. Black of Kenneth road declares this to be the most severe storm early in the season he can remember in his thirty years' residence here. The floods of 1914 came late in the winter.

In Verdugo Woodlands the wash carried off the stormwaters nicely while Sycamore canyon channel served its purpose. The volume of water, however, was phenomenal and many streets have an extra coating of dirt which will wear away in a few weeks.

$68,000 Building. Permit Taken for Department Store

J. G. Huntley and W. E. Evans took out a permit this morning for a 3-story and basement building to house the Pendroy Department Store. It calls for $68,000. The building is to be located on the northeast corner of Brand and Harvard.

Christmas Dinner Will Be Given Boys and Girls Not Provided for on That Big Day

BOYS AND GIRLS, 18 or under, who are not provided for a Christmas dinner by parents or friends, this is a message for you! Write your name and address on a postal card, stating that you would be a willing guest at a Christmas dinner here Sunday, and either leave it at the Chamber of Commerce or mail it to "Santa Claus, Box 177, Glendale, Calif.," before 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

The donor of these dinners would be glad to have anyone knowing of children not provided for to furnish their names in a similar manner, for not a one should go hungry on Christmas day, he declares. Already 50 plates have been reserved at the White Inn and as many will be accommodated as report by Saturday morning. This is a big opportunity for parents too poor to provide the usual holiday feast and they will make a certain business man happy if his offer is accepted in the spirit which makes it.

Forty-Eight Hours More Rain, Claimed By Weather Bureau

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—The heavy rains of the past forty-eight hours will continue throughout California probably for forty-eight hours longer, the weather bureau predicted today. It was stated all indications pointed to continuation of the rain tonight and tomorrow at least.

A torrential downpour in San Francisco early today was followed by a cessation of the rain but the weather bureau said that it was only temporary and would be followed by further precipitation.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—The weather bureau predicts more rain. In face of this prediction the sun came forth this morning. Also, there was a cloudburst off the harbor.

Clever Short Play Well Presented by Pupils at School

A very interesting short play was put on at the Intermediate school Tuesday just after the luncheon hour at the assembly which closed the session for the Christmas holidays. Two very pretty selections were given by the glee clubs, "In Sweetest Accord" by the girls and "Silent Night" by the boys, and were sung behind the scenes before the play. The play "The Day Before Christmas," which was given by pupils of the seventh grade, showed Santa Claus entering school and illustrating the manner in which he would conduct the affair. All the parts were well done, the pupils showing excellent training. Santa was very realistic and received much applause from the assembled school.

The characters were as follows: Teacher, Elizabeth Molz; pupils, Madeline Guglielinino, Virginia Baudino, Janice Brown, Jeannette Zeitlin, John Burr; Santa Claus, Donald Murry; goddess Flora, Marjorie Faulkner; Father Time, Howard Richardson; Man in the Moon, Bruce Harshbarger; Hygea, Myrtle Smith; Goddess Diana, Rebecca Brant; Aurora Borealis, Merna Kennedy; Euclid, Katherine Kitterman; Jack of all trades, Maurice Toll; Lord of Misrule, Harry Leiser. The play was directed by Mrs. Carrie McLeman and Miss Ethel Chase.

Miss Sadie Houdyshel was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Batson of Santa Fe Springs, where she formerly taught school.

CITY COUNCIL ISSUES PUBLIC STATEMENT IN WHICH VARIOUS PROBLEMS RECEIVE DISCUSSION

Officials State Deficit Must Be Overcome; Raise In Water Rates; Slash In Salaries; Citizens Will Keep Up Parkways; Other New Policies

FOLLOWING up its publication in The Glendale Evening News of yesterday of the large chart showing "how each dollar of your tax money is expended," the City Council today unanimously authorized a statement to "the citizens of Glendale" in which a number of relatively important matters are discussed.

In the statement the City Council tells why, in its opinion, it is necessary to charge for collecting garbage; why a number of salaries have been reduced; why the tree nursery has been abolished; why citizens will, in the future, be expected to care for the trees in the parkways; why the sprinkling wagon is no more; why the water analysis has been abolished; why repair of unimproved streets cannot be undertaken at present; why there is an increase in water rates; why, in brief, the citizens generally are expected to cheerfully meet the changes and new policies in municipal administration.

The City Council declares "that the budget as adjusted January 1, 1921, showed an over expenditure of $25,000 on June 30, 1921." The Council explains that when certain adjustments and revenues are posted, "there results a net deficit of approximately $10,500." The Council declares that "to overcome this deficit and keep up the efficiency of the various departments of the working forces of the city has been a hard problem."

Here is the statement in full, signed by Mayor Spencer Robinson and all of the other members of the City Council:

To the Citizens of Glendale—In order that the taxpayers of our city may be cognizant of the actions of the men elected to govern the affairs of Glendale under the provisions of the newly adopted charter and to relieve any possible doubts that might arise in the minds of anyone regarding their sincerity in what they consider for the best interests of all, this article has been prepared for the daily papers.

Inasmuch as the collection of garbage seems to be a paramount issue, especial effort will be made to fully explain this difficult situation.

The City Council by unanimous vote decided that it would be unwise at this time to discontinue making a charge for the collection of garbage. In doing this, the Council feels that when the people realize the necessity of this charge, as set forth in this article, they will be willing to pay the nominal fee asked, until such time as the city is again placed on a firm financial foundation. It is quite true that the Council promised to rescind the ordinance creating this charge and in fact did so, but should the fee be discontinued at this time, it would be necessary to obtain money by the creation of a heavy tax on our business firms. The Council feels that a license tax to raise money for garbage collection would be unfair to the business men of this city.

Need Operating Expenses

The reasons for a garbage collection fee are many. The principal one is, because the present income from taxation and other sources is not sufficient to pay the operating expenses of the city and overcome the indebtedness with which the present administration started.

On July 5 when this Council took over the government of the city, the Council was informed that funds were on hand to meet the current expenses for the upkeep of the city. Later the city controller, in checking the finances of the city, brought to the attention of the Council the fact that the budget as adjusted January 1, 1921, showed an over expenditure of $25,000 on June 30, 1921. The miscellaneous revenue accruing to the city during the last fiscal year amounted to $11,000 more than the original estimate. This amount was available for appropriation and would reduce the $25,000 to $14,000. There exists a charge against last year's budget for compensation insurance of $4,000 as suspense item to be paid from the general reserve fund. When this is done there results a net deficit of approximately $10,500.

To overcome this deficit and keep up the efficiency of the various departments of the working forces of the city has been a hard problem. The Council feels that if the people will be patient and give them time to work out the necessary details, the city can and will be placed in a position where the income from various sources will more than pay all expenses and put the city on a sound financial basis.

In checking up the various departments, the Council found many irregularities, which have been corrected. For example, it had been the past practice of the city to rent horses for various jobs of street work. This rental amounted to an average of $350 per month. Your present Council abolished this system and purchased a tractor on monthly installments. In four months' time the tractor has been paid for from the savings on horse hire and the city in future will continue to save $350 per month from this source alone.

Saving In Expenditures

The Council ascertained the fact that the drivers of our garbage truck had been paid double tme for all hours worked after 12 o'clock noon on Saturdays and after regular hours, thus making their average monthly

Local Postoffice Will Be Listed As Being First Class

A FIRST CLASS postoffice for a first class city!

Meaning that, beginning January 1, 1922, the postoffice in Glendale will be listed as an office of the first class.

D. Ripley Jackson, postmaster-appointed, today received word from Washington to the effect that the Glendale postoffice, soon to emerge from being a branch of the Los Angeles postoffice, will be classified as a first class office.

"All of which is very gratifying and should prove most pleasing to the people of Glendale," said Mr. Jackson.

Clyde H. Boyd in Lumber Business at Santa Barbara Now

The Glendale friends of Clyde H. Boyd, who, about seven years ago, was owner of the lumber yard in this city, now owned by the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company, will be pleased to learn that he has acquired the controlling interest in the Santa Barbara Lumber company at Santa Barbara, of which city he is now a resident.

W. B. Kirk of 504 East Broadway visited Mr. Boyd while in Santa Barbara on a business trip Monday and states that he is getting along fine in his new enterprise.

Pacific Methodist Church Will Hold Program on Friday

Christmas exercises at the Pacific Avenue Methodist Sunday school will be held Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, according to the Rev. Harley G. Preston, pastor. A varied program of musical numbers has been arranged and Santa Claus will make his appearance for the pleasure of the little ones.

The Rev. Mr. Preston requests that those attending bring jellies, jams, canned fruits and fresh fruits for the veterans at Thornycroft sanitarium.

East Side Welfare Association Meeting on Thursday Night

The East Side Welfare Association meets Thursday night at the Broadway school building for a business session. As this organization is backing the selection of the high school site at Verdugo road and Broadway, it is considered by the members that no further debate at this time is required to enable voters to act intelligently in the matter and it is anticipated that the discussion will not be extended.

VISITORS FROM DUNSMUIR

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ferguson and daughter, Esther, of Dunsmuir, Cal., arrived in Glendale Sunday, and are visiting at the homes of Mr. Ferguson's sisters, Mrs. E. U. Deterrents of Diphtheria
Spread Christmas Cheer
Enough Water Is Enough
California Now Flagship

By Gil A. Cowan

RAIN as a deterrent of diphtheria now prevalent here comes as a pleasant payment for the inconvenience the storm has caused Glendale people. But rain alone will not wash away all trace of this peculiarly mild, yet fatal malady.

Vacation in the schools over the holidays will have a good effect in stopping the spread of this disease and parents are cautioned to keep their children from crowds, especially where they will play together and boisterously laugh in others faces.

This may spoil the Christmas tree events for the children of the cautious, but if heed is taken of the doctors' warning there is some hope saving little ones' lives. Sore throats should be watched and the family physician called before it is too late. One practitioner suggests that it would not be unwise for a house-to-house canvass by a nurse to ferret out the malignant cases and send them post-haste to the doctor.

It is the latter type of diphtheria —the carrier—who is the real menace, it is said. Many people have the delusion that if the tonsils are removed there is little danger of developing this disease. Such is not the case and recent research locally has proved that diphtheria will develop in the bowels and poison the system the same as though it were plainly evidenced by the spotted film over the tonsils.

At Christmas time there is a feeling that comes a creeping into one's heart that they should be charitable and share their worldly goods and cheer with others less fortunate. Every community has its organized method of giving to the poor in physical needs, if not in spirit, and in Glendale the particular agencies which are doing such work may be listed as the Salvation Army, the City Welfare Bureau and the Elks' lodge. Many other private enterprises for the benefit of hospitals, etc., also are giving the populace an opportunity to contribute, but all should be sure that their donations are going for charity and not private profit.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, 246 North Orange street, phone Glendale 607-J, is chairman of the Salvation Army work and Ensign Giles is carrying on the detail work. Staple foods, usable furniture and clean bed clothing, in addition to cash, are always acceptable.

Mrs. L. W. Sinclair, City Hall, phone Glendale 1300, or Mrs. E. D. Yard, phone Glendale 510-J, will care for gift consignments to be handled by the Welfare Bureau.

Stanley Frentz is chairman of the Elks' committee and contributions of "Brother Bills" and others should be turned over to him. Cash in hand is what he wants to supply the actual needs of the worthy poor. He can be reached by phoning Glendale 774.

Mrs. J. H. Braly of Richard Gridley chapter, D. A. R., will receive gifts suitable to send to the Utah Street Maternity cottage in Los Angeles. Her phone is Glendale 435. Mrs. George E. Clayton, phone Glendale 668-W, will have Legionnaires call for "goodies" to be sent the veterans at Thornycroft. Miss Ellen Churchill is another charity worker who will be glad to receive books, clothing, etc., for the salvage shop maintained for the benefit of the Children's Hospital in Los Angeles. She resides at 1243 South Maryland avenue, phone Glendale 814-W, evenings. Mrs. H. R. Boyer of 232 North Orange street will forward checks for the County Farm Christmas.

Local Shriners, of course, are assisting Motley Flint play Santa Claus to the Los Angeles kiddies while practically every fraternal or social order conducting homes and orphanages already have dispatched holiday cheer. Glad to give the name and phone number of any other accredited representative of charity!

Now, then, everybody ought to find an opportunity in the foregoing list to do their "bit." And with the left over pennies buy Christmas Seals, the proceeds from their sale going to fight tuberculosis.

Rain, then more rain, says the weather man this week. He is a real encouraging fellow. However, he gets so used to passing out the same prescription day in and day out he doesn't realize that southern California has had enough water this week.

In the summertime it is fair, fair, fair until the type in the weather line on the front page of The Glendale Evening News is worn out. Hope we'll have "rain" left for use some other day.

California, the dreadnaught, now is the flagship of the Pacific fleet. Proud parents of Glendale youths aboard that vessel will be glad of the change. The new ship is about ten times the size of the original "California." It succeeds the New Mexico as Rear Admiral Eberle's official headquarters.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS DISPLAYING REAL HOLIDAY SPIRIT

About Twenty-five Families in Valley Will Receive Benefits at Christmas

The spirit of Christmas has been fully exemplified by the girls of the Glendale Union high school according to Mrs. Ethel H. Moyse, assistant principal, who yesterday complimented them on their unselfish devotion.

Before Christmas eve the homes of twenty-five families in the San Fernando Valley will be brightened by a large holiday box crammed to the brim with yuletide cheer.

For the past month the girls of the high school have been preparing scores of presents which have gone into these boxes. Two captains were chosen from each of the twenty-five girls' roll rooms who directed the work, assisted by various interested members of the faculty. No time for the enterprise in goodwill was taken out of school time. Not content with working on the presents after school and at noon many groups of girls met in homes and last Saturday many worked all day long at the school building.

Many Useful Articles

Each roll room decided to supply one family with a Christmas box. Although the name of the family remained unknown, many of the roll rooms were notified of the first names of their holiday wards and their ages. This made it possible for something to be placed in the box appropriate for each member of the family.

Garments were brought from home and renovated; purchased from local stores, and made by nimble fingers. Among them are coats, sweaters, "nighties," dresses and many other items of useful wearing apparel.

Provisions, also, were both brought from home and purchased. Each box contains a quantity of groceries and home made preserves such as could not be purchased for mere money.

Playthings for each "kiddie" are included in each box. These consist of dolls, games and toys of all descriptions.

Candies and "goodies" are packed in each box, too. Many of the roll rooms included a net stocking filled with candy and nuts for each child in the family. Much of the confectionery is home made.

Altogether an extraordinarily large number of presents have been carefully wrapped in holiday tissue paper and fastened with Christmas seals and placed in these boxes.

Gives $100 in Cash

In addition to the presents themselves the Girls' league of which Miss Doris Packer is president has officially distributed $100 in cash to be distributed among the families. However, it was made plain that it was personal service and not money which was desired.

Mrs. Moyse, dean of girls, is quite proud of the spirit shown by the girls of the school as well as the work accomplished by them. She feels that they have done splendidly.

"The keynote of the whole thing has been service," declared Mrs. Moyse. "I think that the girls have gotten more out of the idea than the family will, because it has been such a development for them in the matter of unselfishness and self-sacrifice. They gave of themselves!"

Says Fight Continues for 'Irish Republic'

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 21.—Word that "the Irish Republic is not dead nor will the fight for it die down until the republic has been achieved," was delivered to the executives of the American association for the recognition of the Irish republic by Harry Boland, envoy to America for the Dail Eireann. The message came on the eve of Boland's departure for Ireland to cast his vote in the Dail Eireann on the Irish treaty.

The Association for the recognition of the Irish Republic is "De Valera's own" organization, having been designated by him as the "official instrument in the United States to work for the Irish republic." It claims a membership of 700,000. Thirty-five states were represented at today's meeting.

Rich Man's Suit for Annulment Dismissed

SANTA ROSA, Dec. 21.—The suit for annulment of his marriage to Dula Sanders Dunphy was dismissed by Superior Judge Rolfe L. Thompson at the request of James C. Dunphy, San Francisco millionaire, made through his attorneys. The Dunphys were married in Santa Rosa Oct. 7 last.

In Dunphy's suit for annulment, he contended that he was incompetent at the time he married Mrs. Dunphy because of being intoxicated for many days before the ceremony. The suit was brought twelve days after the couple were wed.

The WORLD OVER
By FRANKLIN B. MORSE.
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

"Going to seed" is an expression used in connection with any man or woman who, apparently, has lost further ambition in life, either through discouragement, or from too great a success, which makes further effort unnecessary. This expression was used the other day in connection with Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion pugilist.

Undoubtedly, Dempsey now is leading the kind of a life which is most detrimental to the profession of pugilism, and it is more than likely that he already has passed the apex of his prime, for it is contrary to all the laws of nature that he should remain at the pinnacle. It is an inexorable law that we must either be climbing or descending. The stop at the top is relatively only momentary.

The irony of Dempsey's case lies in the fact that it is, in a great measure, absolutely no fault of his own that he is going along his present way. He is in the unfortunate position of being head and shoulders above the rest of the mediocrity of men in his division, and there is no call from the public to see him matched against any of them. It is taken for granted, and with good reason, that he would have no trouble in quickly defeating any present heavyweight against whom he might be matched, and the public is loath to spend its money when it is not likely to have a fair run for it.

Under the circumstances, the future of Dempsey presents a rather unique and interesting problem. Is he to go on without any battles and simply through unusefulness, either to himself or anyone else, gradually decline into the status of a second rater, thus automatically reducing himself to the level where a mediocrity will become a real competitior for him? Certainly this is a pitiable finish for a man who undoubtedly is one of the best ringmen this country has produced. To say, as some do, that he is the best, is talking too much at random.

It must be remembered that there are no Sullivans, Sharkeys, Fitzsimmons, Mahers, Jeffries and such who can test the mettle of Dempsey. He has never had the red acid test which any one of these men could have applied. There are thousands of ring followers in the country who honestly hold to the conviction that Dempsey is not the equal of one or another of the old-timers mentioned. Dempsey either is fortunate, or unfortunate, to have come along when there were no first rate heavyweights.

Fortunate, perhaps, for the reason that had he been contemporary with them, he never might have become the world's champion. Unfortunate, in that having never stacked up against a first rater, there always will be a question that Dempsey was, perhaps, after all, only a second-rater, who took on the habiliments of a champion because there was no material at the time to oppose him.

Dempsey, at the present time, is really a man without a vocation, who is jeopardizing his abilities in his profession through living an existence which is utterly foreign to the best interests of an athlete. There is something omnious in the query, "is he going to seed?"

SPORTS CHATTER
By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Picking All America or All Pacific coast football or any other teams, is primarily a matter of personal opinion of the "selector." Geographical location of the colleges and the matter of seeing more of one player's performances, always has a bearing on the ultimate selection. This is natural.

The Pacific Sports Service herewith gives its opinion of an All Pacific coast college football team. Our deductions are based, not on personal opinion, but on the selections of nine football writers from all parts of the Pacific coast whom we consider capable of sizing up the various players. The team submitted is a "composite" of the teams announced by these nine football experts, published in their papers in various cities of Oregon, Washington, and California. The team thus secured follows:

Ends, Muller, California and Stephens, California.

Tackles, McMillan, California and Boyle, U. of Southern Cal., L. A.

Guards, McKay, Wash. State College and Cranmer, California.

Center, De Groot, Stanford.

Quarter, Bradshaw, U. of Nevada, and Nichols ,California.

Full Back, Nesbitt, California.

There was no argument about the two ends going to Muller and Stephens. Their selection showed a substantial majority over any other ends named, and the same was the case with McMillan at tackle. Boyle of U. S. C. was second choice for tackle. In the matter of guards McKay of Washington led with a good margin, while Cranmer got the other berth by a close margin. De Groot got his margin as center and was also selected in at least one instance as a guard.

The liveliest contest was for quarter where Bradshaw of Nevada and Erb of California were the two outstanding men. The little man from Nevada won out by just one vote, showing therefore more difference of opinion on this position than many other places. Toomey and Nichols of California led all others for half backs with Eckman of Washington State right behind them and Nesbitt of California found most favor for full back.

The above team is one of genuine stars and includes four men of the powerful California line, Boyle and McKay coming in to replace the other two California men on the line. California naturally has the largest number of men selected, no less than seven being wearers of the California blue and gold. Washington State, Southern California, Nevada and Stanford all are represented with one man each.

The method of selection used in deciding on the team is we believe a fair and just one both to the individuals and the colleges of the coast.

PUBLIC STATEMENT ISSUED BY CITY COUNCILMEN

City Officials State Reason They Made Number of Changes in Policy

earnings $208. The rate has now been established at $180 for a twelve hour day of six days per week with no overtime.

The Council found that it had been costing the city $2,000 per year to maintain a tree nursery. The assistant city forester had been receiving $125 per month and was further allowed $30 per month for the upkeep of one horse owned by the city. This position has been abolished and the horse will be sold.

The Council feels that an expenditure of $2,000 per year is too much and has, therefore, gone out of the nursery business. There are a large number of young trees on hand which will be sold and the proceeds delivered to the city treasurer. Provisions have, however, been made to properly care for these trees until such a time as they are required for use.

An allotment of $1,748 per year had been made for upkeep and pruning of trees in parkways. The Council feels that the citizens and home owners of this city have sufficient pride in keeping up the appearance of the various streets to do their own tree pruning and watering for the present at least and thus help to save the city the $1,748 per year, heretofore expended for this purpose. We ask the co-operation of the people in this respect.

Other Savings Made

The Council feels that an expenditure of $600 for the use of our sprinkling wagon during the winter months is unnecessary. The horses have therefore been ordered sold and the driver laid off. The saving from this source will later permit the purchase of a light tractor to do this work, which will be more economical and efficient.

The city had been paying $100 per month for a daily water analysis in addition to the time of one man who took these samples to and from Los Angeles. These reports show that since January 1, 1921, with but few exceptions, conditions have been favorable and the variation comparatively slight. The Council and health department therefore deem this expenditure unnecessary and have abolished this expense. Later if it is necessary and sufficient funds are available the city will install its own laboratory.

An appropriation of $50 for ice for our public drinking fountains has been abolished until the next summer season; a small saving, which helps.

The Council deems it unwise to economize either in the police or fire departments. Careful investigation has shown that both departments are well and efficiently managed and we commend the chiefs and their men ror their excellent showing. The Council hopes that after the close of the next fiscal year, finances will permit the purchase of a new fire engine for the additional protection of the foothill section. Should the people of the Verdugo section decide to annex to Glendale we feel that with the additional funds they would bring to us, this purpose could be accomplished.

The council has authorized the employment of one additional police officer. We recognize the need of additional traffic officers; also detectives to cope with the present wave of crime and regret that our finances will not permit further additions to the force at this time.

Volunteers Thanked

We take this opportunity of publicly thanking our volunteer police officers who are subject to call at any time and who serve without pay. Some of these public-spirited citizens have placed their expensive and high-powered automobiles at the disposal of our police department. These machines have been and will be a valuable aid in the suppression of crime. We also desire to thank our volunteer firemen for their splendid work.

The budget allotment for the repair of unimproved streets and also for resurfacing them has been withdrawn and this amount placed in the general fund. This is regretable, but must be done to make up the deficit.

A survey of the water department has shown that the net income averaged from 1½ to 2½ per cent on net plant investment. This is largely due to interest payments on our bonded indebtedness. It is impossible to make any ordinary additions or betterments to the plant with this amount of net income, which would mean either curtailing improvements or increasing revenues to provide for a higher rate of return. Yet at no time has it been necessary to resort to taxation in order to cover interest or retirement of bonds; same having been paid from revenues of the department.

Water meters are at present being installed at a loss.

Water Rates Raised

The city has a net investment of $668,601.31 in its water department and this investment must be protected. The council has therefore authorized an increase of rates as follows:

The minimum monthly charge of furnishing not more than 600 cubic feet of water through meters of various sizes shall be as follows: For a 5-8-inch x 3-4 inch meter, $1.00; for a 3-4-inch meter, $1.15; for a 1-inch meter, $1.30; for a 1½-inch meter, $1.75; for a 2-inch meter, $2.25; for a 3-inch meter, $4.00; for a meter not larger than 2-inch temporarily placed to furnish water for irrigation purposes only, $1.50. For all water furnished in any one month in excess of 600 cubic feet the charge shall be 7 cents per 100 cubic feet, for the first 10,000 cubic feet; and all in excess of 10,000 cubic feet shall be 5 cents per 100 cubic feet.

It should be noted that these increases will apply mostly to the large ranch owners and gardeners within our city limits. It should be remembered that the water users are the owners of the water department and the council has simply used the same common sense in raising rates that any business man would use to protect a losing business, accordingly wherever practical and advisable rates and fees have been raised, thereby creating additional revenue.

Figures published in the Glendale daily papers show that the municipal tax rate for the city of Glendale was third lowest of all the cities of southern California. We all know the tremendous growth Glendale is making. The city council would like to furnish facilities and service commensurate with this growth, but it cannot do so with the amount of money now furnished.

Disposal of Sewage

Many vexatious problems still confront the council. The question of sewage disposal is the most vital. With the able assistance of the advisory committee of twelve citizens appointed some time ago to deal with this problem, the council feels assured that this issue can soon be worked out satisfactorily to all. The city has recently been released from a contract that would have cost the taxpayers not less than $30,000 for engineering fees alone. The council has not heretofore advertised this fact because we have preferred to work quietly rather than with the blare of trumpets.

The council has purchased on the installment plan two lots adjoining the city hall on the north at a cost of $1,750 each. In the near future it hopes to be able in some way to finance the building of a machine shop and other facilities to properly house all city-owned autos and other equipment. This issue was twice voted on by the people. At both elections a majority of the voters declared in favor of the project, but insufficient votes were cast to register a two-thirds majority. It is not good business management to permit valuable machinery to remain unprotected from the inclemencies of the seasons and all machinery should be put under cover.

The council promised the people that West Broadway would be improved to San Fernando Road. This project is under way and actual construction should start as soon as the right of way deeds have been secured.

The council regrets that in some instances it has found it necessary to reduce the salaries of some very worthy employes. It did not make these reductions for political reasons. It made them because it felt the positions were being paid a higher rate than the work performed justified. The council has been censured for making these reductions. In justification of their action the members of the council wish to state that they are trying to manage the city government as they would their own private business and when in their judgment reductions in salaries or other economies are necessary, they will be made.

The former city clerk was ordered to deliver all funds collected by him to the city, for the reason that Article 25, Section 14 of the city charter states "All moneys received from taxes, licenses, fees, fines, penalties and forfeitures, and all moneys which may be collected or received by any officer of the city in his official capacity, or by any department of the city for the performance of any official duty, and all moneys accruing to the city from any source and all moneys directed by law, or by this charter, to be paid or deposited in the treasury, shall be paid into the treasury daily. The treasurer shall receipt for each such deposit in triplicate, giving the original and duplicate to the depositor, who must file the duplicate with the city controller."

No Quarrel with Clerk

The city attorney has ruled that this must be done and his ruling is fully substantiated by the general laws. The council has no quarrel with the former city clerk, but insists that the provisions of the city charter be complied with.

The growth of the city of Glendale during the past few months has been phenomenal. Records of the building superintendent prove that this growth is still continuing. If we are to progress as a city as we should, the council must have the co-operation and support of all citizens. Petty bickerings and sectional strife should cease. The council does not recognize any differences between north and south Glendale, or east and west Glendale. The council is trying to so govern the city that all sections will derive equal benefits. We ask the help of all citizens in order that this end may be attained.

The council has moved slowly in some instances because they wanted to be sure of the facts. They feel that there is still room for improvement and hope to institute other economies and reforms that will effect further savings and thereby render more and better service to the taxpayers.

SPENCER ROBINSON, Mayor.

Beautiful Homes
at $7,500 to $12,000

GLENDALE folks are waking up to the fact that Verdugo Woodlands actually surpasses the Hollywood foothill district - -

—from the standpoint of elevation, scenery, tree growth, natural running streams, climate, mountain and valley vistas and general desirability.

Glendale people are buying and building at Verdugo Woodlands in ever-increasing numbers. So extensive has our local business become that we have found it necessary to open a Glendale office at 115 W. Broadway. You are invited to visit this office any time—any day. You will not be urged to buy. Come and get a few copies of our beautiful photogravure booklet showing the charming scenery of Verdugo Woodlands. Send these booklets to your Eastern friends and acquaint them with the scenic grandeur that prevails right here in Glendale. Come and see the pictures of the handsome Spanish and Colonial homes constructed at Verdugo Woodlands by our own building department.

If you care to visit the property under our direction we'll be glad to take you and review the entire development from A to Z—and you'll NOT be urged to buy!

—that foothill home you've always yearned for

It awaits you at Verdugo Woodlands—Southern California's most delightful residential park. Why live where your only view is composed of the homes across the street? Why not have your home command an unobstructed vista of the mighty mountains, the foliage-covered foothills and picturesque Verdugo Valley?

Why not live up high—up 1000 feet—up in balmy sunshine-land—where big trees, brooks and wild flowers abound? If you can obtain all this within 35 minutes of down town Los Angeles, and 5 minutes from the business section of Glendale, why choose anything less desirable?

We have sold over a million dollars' worth of homesites at beautiful Verdugo Woodlands—to people who appreciate and demand the better things in life.

Too expensive—you say? Not at all. You can buy a generous-sized villa site here for $1000 and upwards. But why say more? Go out as our guest and see for yourself. F. P. Newport Co., 115 W. Broadway, Glendale. Phone 1232.

Come in and get one of our beautiful descriptive booklets. Open Evenings.

NEW OFFICERS FOR LODGE OF MASONS ARE INSTALLED

look back over the path I have traveled, it indeed seems short. I have been a Mason but a short while when compared with the long Masonic careers of some of you, and, therefore, feel more keenly the responsibilities of the office to which you have so graciously elected me. I was raised in this lodge in January of 1917, and in October of the same year entered the army, returning home in January of 1919. To my surprise, I learned that the master had appointed me as junior deacon for the ensuing Masonic year. During that year we were unfortunate in having the senior warden, our beloved Brother Ben Wilde, move out of our jurisdiction, and at the next election you were kind enough to advance me to the station of junior warden. Each year you have regularly advanced me, until now you have placed me in the master's chair, the greatest honor that can be conferred on a Mason by his lodge. Is it any wonder, brethren, that I am at a loss for words to properly express my appreciation of your kindness. Indeed I realize now, as I never have before, how true it is that there are some things, some feelings, that are too big, too fine to be expressed in mere words.

Suggestions To Be Made

"Like every man who has filled this station, I have certain ideas that I believe will, if put into effect, work to the good of Masonry in this lodge. Those ideas I prefer to present singly for your consideration at the proper time, rather than en masse. However, they all may, perhaps, be summed up in the single thought that it shall be my endeavor always to make Masons, not merely members. There promises to be several problems of considerable magnitude facing us that will require solution during the ensuing year, and I promise you that I shall give to them my unselfish and sincere consideration, with the hope that I may be able to present to you a plan for their solution which you may approve.

"In closing, permit me to extend to you and yours and, through you, to every Mason within the jurisdiction of this lodge, my best wishes for a Joyous Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year."

Given Diamond Ring

During the latter part of the lodge session, retiring Worshipful Master Henry P. Goodwin was presented with a beautiful diamond ring bearing the emblem of the order, and responded by thanking the members of the chapter for their gift and for their co-operation during the past year. The presentation was made by Past Master Fred Baker. After the lodge meeting a banquet was served in the banquet hall.

M. A. Johnston Goes on Middle West Trip

M. A. Johnston, who has been living at the local Elks' clubhouse for the past two years, will leave Glendale during the latter part of this week for a two months' extended trip to Hutchinson, Kansas, St. Louis, Chicago and various other cities throughout the east and middle west. Mr. Johnston, who is a traveling salesman for the Yawman & Erbe Office Supply company of Los Angeles, has been granted a sixty-day leave of absence by his employers and will return to his position on February 20.

Mr. Johnston will go direct from Los Angeles to Hutchinson, where he will spend several weeks visiting with his parents and former neighbors. From there he will go to Chicago, where he will visit with other relatives, after which he will travel through Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinatti and other large cities before returning to Glendale.

Mrs. Robert Pratt of 321 North Brand, will have with her on Christmas day, her mother, Mrs. R. Holt and her sister, Miss Agnes Holt of 5443 Carlton Way, Hollywood.

Storm Helps Sale of Tires, Is Claim of E. D. Halliwell

Wet and slippery streets have increased the sale of tires greatly according to E. D. Halliwell, proprietor of the Auto Tire Company's branch store at 211 South Brand boulevard. He said this morning that a number of autoists, who had been running on "hope and smooth tires" had braved the recent storm to come in after non-skids.

"Yesterday and the day before, when we didn't expect to do anything on account of the rain," declared Mr. Halliwell, "we did a rushing business and were busy selling tires right and left."

SAY VERDUGO WASH IS ENDANGERING CITY'S FUTURE

Directors of Chamber of Commerce Name Committee to Urge Protection

Declaring the Verdugo wash to be the most perilous condition facing the future of Glendale if allowed to remain in its present condition, the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday went on record demanding action on the part of the Los Angeles County Flood Control department.

Councilman C. E. Kimlin and Contractor Peter L. Ferry were added to the present committee on wash protection which is comprised of W. E. Hewitt, W. H. Reeves, the city manager, and George B. Woodberry. There were instructed to wait upon Supervisor Henry W. Wright and get something done before the flood waters sweep out of the channel and inundate the streets of Glendale.

In Danger of Damage

Thousands of dollars' worth of material damage could be wrought in a night, a million dollars general havoc could be played during one severe storm if the wash channel is not placed in a better condition, according to the consensus of opinion. The city is sharing its burden in the county-wide flood control plans, it was stated, and something more tangible than the present steel fencing is sought. This, it was said, soon will rust and be washed aay.

Hearty support was given by the Chamber directors to the sentiment expressed in a communication from the Women's Civic League of San Fernando which objects to changing the name of the great and historic San Fernando valley to the "Los Angeles valley." Although the metropolis has annexed a large portion of that fertile back country, Glendale and other independent municipalities are satisfied with the present name.

Football Game Tickets

James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Chamber, announced that 100 $2.50 Tournament of Roses football game tickets and ten of the $5 issue had been reserved for members. A limited number are still on sale.

The luncheon yesterday was served by Mrs. Rhoades, assisted by Mrs. H. M. Bronson. Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mrs. A. D. Hartley and Miss Mary E. Larkin. The feast of fried chicken and all its trimmings was so enjoyed that three cheers were given the hostess.

Jesse E. Smith, second vice president, was accorded all honors as epicure of the board. "I can always do justice to such delicious food," he said, in paying tribute to Mrs. Rhoades' culinary ability.

Mrs. Eugene H. Imler and Daughter Arrive

Mrs. Eugene H. Imler and baby daughter, Adelaide Jean, arrived in this city Saturday from their home in Bakersfield, they having come here to spend the Christmas and New Year's holidays with Mrs. Imler's mother-in-law, Mrs. A. H. Imler of 236 West Park avenue. Mr. Imler, who is a former resident of Glendale, will leave the Oil Drillers' City next Saturday and will join his wife and daughter in time to celebrate Christmas together. He will return to Bakersfield on Tuesday.

GIVE REASONS FOR BEING IN FAVOR OF GREY SITE

A. W. Dorsey Says Prosperity of City in Future Will Depend Upon Location

A. W. Dorsey submits the following communication relative to the Grey site for the proposed new high school:

Editor The Evening News—Believing that many residents of Glendale have heard of but one site for the proposed new high school, I submit an article on the advantages of the Grey site which I hope you will publish. I know you will agree with me—that everything connected with this vital question should be given publicity in the Glendale paper—that the voter may vote with his eyes open.

I am for the continued prosperity of Glendale.

Sincerely,
A. W. DORSEY.

The argument favoring the Grey site as presented by Mr. Dorsey follows:

To the public—Too little has been said in favor of the beautiful Grey site for the new Glendale high school.

When Pasadena selected a site for her magnificent high school she selected one on the very outskirts of her fastest growing section, far away from the business and industrial section. This site was served by one car line and one bus line but students from far and near found no difficulty in reaching it.

Today the people of Glendale have an opportunity of being as wise and farsighted as were the people of Pasadena. The Grey site offers this opportunity.

Fast Growing Sections

No part of Glendale is growing as fast as the north and west sections. With the present phenomenal growth of this section, the building up of the many foothill tracts and the subdivision of tracts on the extreme west, in five years from now two-thirds of the students of the new school will come from west of Brand boulevard. Should these students not be given as much consideration as the comparative few from Eagle Rock and other suburbs?

The two very much overworked objections to the Grey site are the proximity to the wash,—and the limited transportation facilities.

In regard to the wash, I am told by the very best of authority that conditions have so changed that Glendale need never fear another flood. However, our capable city manager has taken it upon himself to see that the work of the flood control is completed and no doubt the wash will not only be made very safe, but a thing of beauty, long before a new school will grace the site.

Right now the Grey site is served by one car line and one bus line. Adequate transportation facilities will be furnished as soon as the school is an established fact. This assurance comes from the office of the Pacific Electric Co.

Switching Prosperity

It is sometimes said that the Grey site lays low. Here in sunny California low-lands and high-lands are all valued alike. One very beautiful and valuable piece of property we all enjoy lays so low that we have to go down a flight of stairs to reach it. I refer to Brookside Park. The Grey site is on a level with much of the residence district of Glendale.
dence district of Glendale.

Should the Luken's site on the extreme east boundary of our city be the selection of the people there is no doubt but that a great part of the present prosperity of Glendale will be switched to Eagle Rock.

Eagle Rock will not be slow in using the fact that the new high school of the district is in their front yard—and this, combined with the fact that they have a 5 cent car fare to Los Angeles—will add greatly to the boom she is now enjoying. I believe the selection of the Grey site would be a great blow to the present prosperity of Glendale.

This should be carefully considered by every one having a vote on this question.

The Grey site comprising nineteen and one-half acres faces the new city park consisting of 8 acres, in which we are soon to have a very up-to-date swimming pool and plunge. Should the taxpayers wish it, the park and plunge could be made to meet some of the needs of the school in the way of shower baths and athletic field.

The Grey site has an uninterrupted view of the Verdugo mountains which should be an inspiration to every teacher and student going there.

If every taxpayer would make a trip to the proposed Grey site with an open mind keyed to the needs of the present and future Glendale (not the surrounding towns) the Grey site would undoubtedly be the site selected.

I am not in the real estate business, have only my home and no child to use the new high school, but I am intensely interested in Glendale and its youth, and, like every resident of the west and north sections, I want only fair representation as well as taxation.

Respectfully,

near El Monte. The Mexicans were taken to higher ground where a temporary camp was made. Ropes were used to rescue a number of these persons.

At a number of other places along the San Gabriel, the Rio Honde and other streams residents were compelled to flee from their homes by the rising waters.

Many Streets Flooded

Many streets in Los Angeles remained in a flooded condition and city officials declared continuance of the rain would make conditions threatening in a number of places.

Many buildings at Universal City were reported to be in danger from flood waters and animals of the Motion Picture city zoo were removed to a Hollywood studio during the night.

Water neared the spillways of the Devil's Gate dam across the Arroyo Seco. The dam, however, is in no danger and has prevented enormous flood damage along the Arroyo between Los Angeles and Pasadena.

Rush Food to Trains

Nearly 2,000 passengers on overland trains of the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Santa Fe systems are marooned at various points within 100 miles of the city. Supplies of food are being rushed to the trains.

The only trains to leave or arrive during the morning were over the coast and San Joaquin valley lines of the Southern Pacific to the north.

More than 100 automobiles of eastern tourists en route to Los Angeles are mired in soapstone mud in blue cut, Cajon pass.

The weather forecast is for additional rain tonight and Thursday. The rainfall in Los Angeles for the last twenty-four hours was 2.44 inches, making a total for the storm of 5.22 inches and a seasonal total of 6.48 inches.

Ivanhoe Bridge Unsafe

The Ivanhoe bridge on the Pacific Electric line between Los Angeles and Glendale was considered dangerous this morning and passengers were obliged to walk across it and make connection at either end. It was being watched carefully to prevent possibilities of accidents.

The Van Nuys and San Fernando line of the Pacific Electric is now blocked on account of a bridge being out beyond Wilcox avenue. On the Whittier and La Habra line high water has blocked traffic at Eyre station and it has been necessary to transfer passengers across the San Gabriel river.

Among the lines which seem to be operating on almost schedule time are those to San Gabriel, Santa Ana, Redondo, Long Beach, Venice and Sawtelle.

The Puente-Largo bridge on the Glendora line has been washed out.

Battle of Raindrops

The Battle of the Raindrops took place early this morning in San Pedro Harbor between a squadron of Uncle Sam's Pacific fleet and minions of Jupiter Pluvius.

Long Beach and San Pedro observed a near cloudburst early this morning and for about twenty minutes one of the heaviest rains ever seen in this part of the coast descended in sheets and blankets.

Sailors on the battleships in the harbor reported that torrents of water flowed off the decks like miniature Niagaras. They declared that the rainfall had been so heavy that the sound of the drops coming through the air and hitting the iron bulwarks sounded like the roar of a naval engagement.

To prevent being blown against the breakwater by the wind the battleship Idaho was obliged to hoist anchors, both of which were dragging on the bottom, and cruise about in deep water until daybreak when it returned to the harbor.

The weather has prevented between 3,000 and 4,000 sailors from returning to their ships for the past thirty hours. These members of the crews of the Oklahoma, Texas, Idaho, Mississippi, Nevada and Arizona are celebrating their extra liberty in hilarious fashion.

Dance and Banquet Thoroughly Enjoyed in Spite of Storm

Although the weather was stormy, a large crowd was in attendance on Monday night at the dance given by Local Union No. 713, Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators of America, at which time they entertained all card men and their families and friends. Old-time dances were mixed with the latest steps. Music was furnished by an orchestra from Los Angeles.

Mrs. O. Thompson, president of the Women's Union Lable league, No. 400, presented a beautiful bouquet to V. E. Burris, president of the painters' local, and expressed her wish that the ensuing year would be as successful for the local union as the closing year had been.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Frank L. Sullivan directed a march, during which he presented each man and woman present with a portion of a playing card. Partners for the banquet were selected by matching up the cards. A special feature of the banquet, it was pointed out, was the fact that everything served was union made and bore the union label. Mrs. Carroll L. Hare was the winner of a box of candy during one of the contests of the evening.

THOMAS MEIGHAN IS BEING SHOWN IN STAGE SUCCESS

'A Prince There Was' Proves Suitable Vehicle; Features T. D. & L. Program

Beginning today the T. D. L. theatre will show, for two days, a new Paramount picture starring Thomas Meighan. It is "A Prince There Was," based on George M. Cohan's celebrated stage success of the same name. This is said to be one of Mr. Meighan's finest vehicles produced in many a day and every Meighan fan will be interested.

Mildred Harris, a beautiful star in Lois Weber pictures, is Mr. Meighan's leading woman in this meritorious picture. It is a brilliant production and this assures you that you will not find a dull moment throughout the presentation.

"A Prince There Was"

Appearing to excellent advantage in this delightful role, "Thomas Meighan makes a deep impression. The story deals with an idle rich young man who tires of his environment and, seeking new fields, finds romance and love. Mr. Meighan vests the role with sympathy and feeling. There are many moments of suspense and thrill and on the whole, the production is far above the average.

Music may even have charms for the savage who is pounding the piano.

P. S. M'NUTT GIVES HIS OPINIONS ON SCHOOL SITES

Writer Tells Why He Favors Lukens Location; Invites Inspection by Public

P. S. McNutt expresses his view on the high school site question in the following communication:

Editor The Evening News—We all want the best things. Let us make no mistake now. A permanent high school site must be selected. A location for the long future. The territory involved will have 100,000 people in the no distant future. The district is five miles east and west, and five miles north and south.

I lived three years near the Grey site, and know it well. The strong claim urged for it, and really the only ponit, is, that it is near the center of things, i. e., its convenient location. But only a little examination will show that this claim has no foundation at all. Instead of its being a central and convenient location, it is shown to be only at the edge of the district with scarcely any conveniences that can be mentioned.

Let us open our eyes wide enough for a moment to look over the whole Glendale Union High school district. It embraces Crescenta, Eagle Rock City, Glendale City, Monte Vista, and Tujunga.

There is only need of one central or principal high school in the whole territory. Some branches may be desirable later on. There are many advantages in one big high school. It is for a Union High school, and Eagle Rock City, Crescenta and the others have the same rights in it as Glendale City has. The selecting of the Grey site would compel all these other districts to withdraw on account of the distance and inconveniences of the site. As a practical financial matter, it appears that these districts pay more taxes per capita of school attendance at the high school, than Glendale City does. From any standpoint we want them to remain in the Union High school district.

Gets Map of District

Superintendent Keppel has sent me an official map of the district. Such a map should be placed in the hands of every voter. Let us stand at a point in Doran street at the southwest corner of this Grey site. This point is but 1500 feet, only three short blocks from the San Fernando road, which is the western boundary of the high school district. From this point you can travel eastward for four miles and still be within Glendale. You can travel three miles to Crescenta and three miles southeast and still be within Glendale. From this point you can move only four blocks south to Broadway, and then travel five miles east through Eagle Rock City to near Annandale golf grounds and still be within the Glendale Union High school district. It is but half a mile from the wash at the Grey site north to the Verdugo mountains. It would therefore never do to locate our main high school at the very edge of the district with a future great population certain.

It would not do even if Glendale were alone in the district. There may be a branch high school sometime in the northwest, but instead of being on the Grey site, it will likely be on Sixth street somewhere between Pacific avenue and Grand View Cemetery. It will be noted that only a narrow strip extends from Pacific avenue to the Burbank limits. A line produced north and south along the west line of the Grey site will leave nine tenths of the high school district east of it. The east part will all be occupied with homes in the no very distant future. We are not buying a twenty acre site for today, or for next year, but for the future years.

States His Objections

A few serious objections to the Grey site I make are:

First—The climate. It is low and is in the frost belt. You could not raise semi-tropical plants and flowers or shrubs, or citrus fruit trees on this account. It is subject to heavy wet fogs, and many dust storms from the upper valley. It is hot in summer and cold in winter.

Second—The soil. A large part of it is of a very light sandy, washed-in soil, poor for grasses, shrubbery or flowers and plants.

Third—It being near the S. P. railroad tracks, the noise and smoke and dust from so many heavy trains would get on the nerves of the children and be a nuisance.

Fourth—It is on the edge of the factory district. All the ground west of it running along the wash to the railroad has already been discussed as a site for some large factory. South of it along the San Fernando road will be built up with factories. This would render it unfit for a school.

Fifth—It is up against one of the most troublesome washes in the state. This not only destroys the surroundings but it is a positive menace.

Sixth—The site can never be one of beauty. There is the wash, the factory district, the railroad, and being in a poor residence district, will be surrounded with inferior dwellings and meagre improvements. If you are visiting in any up-to-date, progressive city, and wish to see the high school buildings, you would be surprised to be taken down to the wash and river in the lowest part of the city, and railroad tracks where the industrial district is located.

Seventh—Not accessible. The layout can have no leading thoroughfares or boulevards. No street car lines. An expensive bridge must be put in across the wash to reach it at all from the north. Travelers and strangers passing through the district on the principal streets would never pass or see it. If streets were opened around it, as they must be, much of the ground would be taken by these and much money needed to improve them. In such an out of the way place as this, who would ever see the fine buildings and grounds or know we had them?

Tells of Luken Site

Regarding the Luken site at Broadway and Verdugo road. This site has not a single one of the objections which must be urged against the Grey site at Doran and San Fernando road.

It is nearly in the center of the high school district. High and clear of dust and noise and wet fog. Nearly frostless. Warm in winter, cool in summer, with no bad wind storms. As near to the City Hall as the present high school grounds. The soil is all that could be desired—the richest in the whole district; will raise anything successfully, grasses, shrubbery and flowers of all kinds. Not a single objectionable feature or surrounding. It is a thing of rare beauty and will be a joy forever if you select it.

It is wonderfully accessible. On three of the grandest boulevards in all southern California. Only one block from each of our two street car lines, and the Pacific Electric will be extended to its corner. Near two of the main bus lines.

Urges It Be Seen

It is set in what will be one of the very finest and most beautiful residence district in the whole valley, or anywhere else. These splendid grounds and buildings will be seen daily by thousands of people. The boulevards are all paved, and the paving paid for. No new streets are needed to be opened. A good well of 25 miner's inches flow is on the premises. Enough to water the whole grounds. And — listen — the whole tract is set to bearing orange trees. Drive up and see for yourself and you will be of the same opinion as the Chamber of Commerce committee gave us.

If you vote for the Luken's site you can always feel proud of the part you took in securing it, for having a high school site like this will always be one of the chief glories of our city. But if this site is not selected, you must as you drive past it in future years recall the words,

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen,
The saddest are these, it might have been."

Local Ford Agency Can Give Delivery on Christmas Cars

"There is an unprecedented demand for Ford closed cars now" says Jesse Smith of the local Ford agency. "We fear we will be sold out soon and have our doubts for the late Christmas shopper, who waits too long to get that closed car for the family. The Los Angeles plant of the Ford Motor Company will be closed for inventory December 23, so all orders must be filled by that time.

"Immediate delivery can still be had right here in Glendale—our people do not have to go elsewhere to get prompt delivery and prompt service on Fird cars. We have $7,500 invested in machinery, tools and equipment; employ ten mechanics to give Glendale people satisfactory and economical service on Ford cars; and have every right to expect Glendale citizens to patronize a Glendale institution. Just think, when you support our local Ford agency you are supporting, or helping at least to support, more than thirty homes represented by the thirty employes at the local Ford shops. Let's think of these things and buy at home. Prices are guaranteed the same and you get careful, personal service and attention here that you do not get elsewhere."

ALICE JOYCE STARS IN PICTURIZATION OF NOTED NOVEL

Many Costly Sets Needed for Production Being Featured at Glendale Theatre

Alice Joyce has an ideal role in "The Inner Chamber," opening a two day engagement at the Glendale Theatre. She portrays both the society girl and the woman of poverty. She is beset by unscrupulous social enemies, but rises above them and in the end triumphs.

The story of "The Inner Chamber" deals with the adventures of a stenographer, whose employer spreads a malicious falsehood about her. The girl is engaged in supporting her mother, an invalid, and has a difficult time obtaining positions. The lie follows her from place to place, and she finds herself constantly out of employment. The only one who befriends her is torn from her by another falsehood, and to escape further trouble she marries a Greek doctor. The doctor is very jealous and kills himself in an insane fit of jealousy. The heroine learns the truth in regard to her only friend, and they are reunited with the prospect of being happily married.

Costly Sets Required

Many costly sets are required for the production, which is unusual in every respect. It is based upon Charles Caldwell Dobie's famous novel, "The Blood Red Dawn."

An exceptionally strong cast, including Pedro de Cordoba, Holmes E. Herbert, Mrs. De Wolf Hopper, John Webb Dillion, Ida Waterman, Grace Barton and Josephine Whittell supports Miss Joyce.

Other interesting attractions will round out the holiday mid-week offering.

Ernest Elliott Will Open New Hardware Store in City Soon

Ernest Elliott has signed a five-year lease with the Ralphs Grocery company for a storeroom in their building at the corner of Orange street and Broadway, where he will install an up-to-date hardware stock, at 205 West Broadway. Mr. Elliott and family have resided in Glendale for the past four years, but three months ago they sold their property here and took a trip to the northern part of the state. After satisfying himself that Glendale offers the best business opportunities, Mr. Elliott returned here to engage in business at the earliest possible date.

SPECIAL MASS ON XMAS

There will be a special mass at 6:30 Christmas morning at the Holy Family Catholic church, Elk and Louise, at which time Christmas Carols will be sung by the children. C. J. SANGMAN INJURED

An attempt to fix his roof yesterday caused C. J. Sangman to slip off his home at 1511 Kenneth Road and break his right ankle. After his foot had been placed in a plaster cast at the Glendale Sanitarium Hospital, he was taken home again.

Present Rail and Auto Service Not Adequate, Claimed

Pointing out that the evidence showed inadequacy of present rail and auto service, rather than need of an additional line, the railroad commission today denied the application of the Glendale Rapid Transit company to operate motor truck express and baggage service between Glendale and Los Angeles. The commission announced that if present carriers do not meet the public need with more efficiency, future applications to enter the field will be received with more encouragement, adding:

"In this case carriers, particularly the auto carriers, must understand that the duty imposed on them requires that they conform their service to the reasonable needs of the shipping public. Especially should those transporting trunks and baggage to and from transient and touring hotels provide call and delivery that cause no unnecessary delay to guests. The short haul and the volume of business between Glendale and Los Angeles require expeditious service and it is the duty of carriers now authorized to provide it."

John L. Malarkey in Demming for Holidays

Mr. and Mrs. Malarkey, who lived in this city for a number of years, moved to their present home several months ago.

R. L. Kent Company Busy on Foundation of Pendroy Building

The R. L. Kent company, contractors and builders, has a crew busy working on the foundation for the Pendroy Dry Goods Company building. The workmen are covered by a canvas shelter. Walls of the excavation at Harvard street and Brand boulevard are boarded up to keep the rain from further washing dirt into the pit.

TAIL LIGHT IS MISSING

Did anyone find an auto tail light between San Fernando road and Elk avenue last night? William F. Leslie, who is employed by the Auto Car company, 1801 South Main street, Los Angeles, reported that he had one on his truck as he passed San Fernando road, but R. K. Blance, 316 Winona avenue, Pasadena, declared that none was visible when his Ford ran into the rear of the truck as it was parked facing north on the west side of Brand boulevard. The damage was slight.
